

The importance of this Conference rises from the fact of its uniqueness in bringing together the basic influential pillars of the Palestinian developmental structure. While AGIP 2010 has established and AGIP 2012 will sustain the core for unleashing sustainable endeavors of collaboration, exchange of expertise and knowledge integration in a comprehensive complementary state, in order to frame clear, viable and positive features of the Palestinian economy, since the Palestinian Institutional state is in its developmental stages, which makes it imperative for such partnerships to rise and to cooperate altogether in order to bridge any existing gaps amongst those pillars.

This shall ensure achieving sustainable collaborative mechanisms, enriching the Palestinian experience and boosting its capacities to coexist and thrive within the regional and international economy as an independent economic entity.
